When the train reached Columbia, the boys, nearly suffocated, waited for the car to be opened. They could feel that it was being uncoupled from the train and switched off on a side track; but they listened in vain for the sound of a key in the lock. Nobody came near. They kicked at the door and shouted themselves hoarse, but no one seemed to hear them. Henry fainted, and his brother, fearing that he might die, with all his remaining strength, kicked at the door and cried for help. Fortunately, about this time, a watchman at the depot hearing the boy's voice, summoned the station agent, and he opened the door and took the boys out.

station agent, and he opened the door and took the boys out.

Henry recovered on being brought to the open air. A crowd of little ragamuffins had collected around the Livingstones as soon as their story was told, and full of curiosity to hear about the Indians and the buffalo, and the plains, plied them with questions and rewarded them with A PLENTIFUL SUPPLY OF FOOD.

The youthful travelers were the guests of the little Arabs for three days, and then they went to Philadelphia. They reached New York last Monday night, and an officer finding them wandering homeless in the streets, took them to the Franklin street police station. There they were kept until morning. On leaving the station they got separated in a crowd and lost each other.

Fred. wandered about the city a day in search of his "little brother," as he called him, and was inconsolable. At the Grand Central depot he told his story to Grand Central depot he told his story to policeman John H. Kershaw, a kind-hearted man, who not only went to the Central police office to help him find his Central police office to help him find his brother, but, at his own expense, had the lad respectably clad from head to foot and took him under his protection. The clerks in the Central police office also took much interest in the little fellow, and not a few dimes found their way, into his pockets. Fred, thinks that his brother has gone to Whitehall.

The Vicksburg Affair.

Stormy.

[By Telegraph to The Constitution.]

LONDON, December 10.—The storm yesterday was very disastrous to shipping. A dozen vessels are ashore at White Bay, and one is reported to have sunk with all on board. Similar accounts are received from points all around the coast. The mails from France were several hours behind. A packet for Osset tend was compelled to return to Dover. Heavy damage was done to the works in the harbors of Jersey. Two hundred and sixty yards of plet were awept away.

Blocks of concrete, weighing several tons, were displaced and broken. The storm was very averse on the continent.

---A Remarkable Story.

[Lincoln (N. Y.) Progress.]

[Lincoh (N. Y.) Progress.]

Another very remarkable incident is added to the many startling things which have occurred in these latter days. Our readers will remember that we gave an account of the sad death of our venerable fellow-citizen, Rev. Henry Asbury, which occurred on October 1, 1874. Mr. Asbury had retired to his room and bathed his chest with kerosene oil to relieve a pain with which he was afflicted and which had been relieved by the same application previously. After bathing application previously. After bathing with the oil, by some accident, of which he could give no account, he came in contact with a blaze of fire, and, the oil igniting, he was soon enveloped in flames He ran into the yard, but before assist ance could be rendered his clothes were burned to ashes and his body almost to a crisp. From this painful and distressing accident he died the same evening at accident he died the same evening at 6:20 o'clock.

When his wife came to his relief in the yard he remarked: "I am gone, I have to die." He then walked into the house, and when he laid down he related the following wonderful incident of his life. He said that "about fourteen years ago an angel appeared to him, he felt the breeze of its wings, and the angel told him that his end would be a terrible one." He continued: "I see it all plainly, just as the angel told me; this is no fiction; you will find it written down in a memorandum among my papers. I kept my mouth closed to exclude the flames so I could be able to tell you all about it." After his death the following written memorandum was found careful.

written memorandum was found carefully preserved among his papers:
"AN EXTRAORDINARY EVENT OF MY LIFE." As I was coming from Tate's factory, up the river at night, to where my son John and my wagons were camped, on the old plank road, an angel passed by me. I felt the breeze of its wings, and it spoke to me and told me what would be my end in this life. I believe every word of God, whether spoken by angels or men inspired, and my whole hope of happiness here and hereafter is in God, through Jesus Christ, his Son, and my savior. Amen. H. Asbury:

Mr. Asbury was an "old soldier of the cross," who had served his God faithfully and well, having been a local minister of the Methodist church for about forty-two years, we believe. His death was as peaceful and triumphant as his life had been devoted and consistent. His anticipations of heavenly rest were sweet and joyful, and his soul grew rapturous as he spoke of the "depths of the wisdom and knowledge of God."

A short time before he expired, he had himself raised in the bed, and bid a most tender and affectionate farewell to his family, when he was laid down again, he locked his hands together across his breast, closed his eyes and died without a slunder. So this good man passed in to the "eternal rest," prepared for God's people, We are forcibly reminded of the foreshadowing of Peter's death, as related by the Apostle John, in his Epistle, chapter 21, verse 18.

MEDALLIONS.—We were yesterday shown at the store of Mr. C. Bohnefeld, on Marietta street, some of the finest medallions we have ever seen. The artist is Mr. Max Gerber, a young man who has been in our city only a month or two. He showed ma a fine medallion of Mrs. Dr. John M. Johnson, which is to be exhibited at the library fair. The work is beautifully done, and the likeness to the original very striking. The young artist has just completed a fine bust of Gov. Sam Bard, which will also be on exhibition at the fair. Several other pleces of work are nearly completed. We are glad to have such a good artist in our city. We hope that his talent will be appreciated and rewarded. A Country Bridal.

DR. CALHOUN'S LIVER PILLS. DR. CALHOUN'S LIVER PILLS.

I AM engaged in the manufacture of the Celebrated Family Medicine, known as the Calhoun Liver and Anti-Billous Pills, under the supervision and assistance of Dr. Calhoun himself. This Pill has been in use for the last 35 years, and has taken precedence over all other Family preparations by all that have used them. Thousands would certify to their great value if necessary. One fact should supercede any amount of certificates, and that fact is this: Dr. Calhoun has been physician to the Fulton County Prison for over seven years, when the number of prisoners ranged from 20 to 70, laboring under all the diseases incidental to this climate. With but few exceptions they have all been treated with this Pill, and astonishing to say during that long period not a solitary death occurred under his treatment. This fact is worth any amount of testimonials.

I am now prepared to fill orders from druggists, merchants and others. All orders sent me shall receive prompt attention. There is no type of FEVER, DYSPEPNIA, DIARRH GEA, DYSENTERY, RHEUMATISM, CHOLERA MORBUS, BILLOUS-NESS and SIUK HEADACHE, or other diseases of a Southern climate, but yield readily to this preparation.

In again calling attention to our popular grades of flours, we will attempt no further elaboration of their merits, except to say, that no flour in the wide world can surpass our FFF in purity of stock and richness of sample; and that the world can't produce a more substantial or nutritive flour than our FF.

The Family is good for the price, but, necessarily ilmited in quantity; being made only when we make the FFF.

We can readily fill orders for FFF and FF; but in selling Family, we are compalled to limit the orders to the supply on hand.
